

About us

We are a financial co-operative owned and managed by our members. These are people who live, work or study in the areas we operate. Our members benefit from the wide range of services we have on offer.

Credit unions have historically been created, managed, and run by volunteers. LCCU, like many other Credit Unions, still depends on volunteers to support us in delivering our services. We are pleased that you are interested in becoming a volunteer.

To become a volunteer, please fill in the details on the form overleaf.

Once completed, please hand it in at any of our branches and we will be in touch shortly.

Steps to becoming a volunteer

If you can make a regular, reliable commitment each week, you'll be warmly welcomed by our friendly team who are ready and waiting to show you the ropes.

And it's worth knowing that as well as embarking on an exciting new adventure in life, long-term volunteers are also entitled to VIP insurance and special rates on loans.

So, what are you waiting for?

Simply complete the attached form, tell us about your existing skills, how you'd like to help, and what else you might be interested to learn.

Help your credit union - while helping yourself

It takes a lot of hard work to run London Community Credit Union (LCCU). But it's worth it. Helping people to save wisely and borrow responsibly is a rewarding challenge.

We couldn't do it without our volunteers. They help us with both the day-to-day running and the behind the scenes operations.

And right now, we're looking for more community-spirited volunteers to join our team. Whatever your skills, there's bound to be a role ideally suited for you.

You will be made to feel at ease in your new environment as there will always be someone close at hand or at the end of a telephone line to act as your mentor and guide you in any way necessary.

Why volunteer? Transform your life!

People volunteer for lots of reasons; Volunteering is ultimately about helping others and giving a little back to society. What better way to connect with your neighbourhood and meet new people.

Taking on a role with LCCU can also help you find paid work. It's hard to find a job these days, so volunteering with us can help you stand out from the competition.

This isn't just anecdotal evidence – a recent survey suggests three-quarters of employers favour candidates with volunteering on their CV.

And what better way to learn new skills? From organising events to office admin, from budgeting to publicity, nothing happens in volunteering without willing hands to turn plans into reality. And many of your new talents can even lead to a recognised NVQ qualification.

Millions of people across the UK enjoy the benefits of volunteering every year, while helping improve the lives of others in their communities.

LCCU can do the same for you.

Volunteering can lead to many career opportunities either within the Credit Union or elsewhere.

Who are we looking for? We're looking for you!

It doesn't matter whether you'd like to use existing skills or receive training and learn new ones. If you have an interest or skill in the following areas we'd love to hear from you:

- Office Management
- Accounting
- Auditing
- Planning and Organising
- Events / Project Management
- IT / Website Development / Management
- Marketing
- Fund Raising
- Community / Schools Outreach
- Customer Care
- Administration

The great thing about volunteering with LCCU is, there's something suitable for everyone – whatever your walk of life, background, or personal commitments. Because volunteering is totally flexible it often suits young mothers or people who are looking to put something back into the community. Whether you are in full-time education or not we may have a role for you.
